

Yeah, that's right ... May was a fine month here at The Factory ... since it sorta began and ended with a Holiday - well, they weren't "paid" Holidays - we all had to come in and work, but on the 1st, senior management put up a May Pole for us during Lunch Break and on the 29th - Memorial day, you know - well, we all got to think back and reflect on the memory of that fun 15 minutes ... for sure!
